

PAUCITY & PLENTY

enactments & expectations

Eisenberg Institute for Historical Studies Fall 2009

1014 TISCH HALL 4-6PM

Thursday Lecture

September 17

Rebecca Scott, University of Michigan with respondent Mamadou Diouf, Columbia University “Microhistory Set in Motion: Six Generations of a Creole Family”

October 1

Kenneth Pomeranz, University of California, Irvine “Land Rights, Resources, and Chinese Development in Long-run and Comparative Perspective”

October 15

William H. Sewell, Jr., University of Chicago
“The Nines: Brinks, Cusps, and Perceptions of Possibility—from 1789-2009”

*Founders Room, Alumni Center

Jointly sponsored with the Weiser Center for Emerging Democracies

October 29

George Sánchez, University of Southern California “Population Removals in Times of Crisis: Mexican Repatriation and Slum Clearance in the (Last) Great Depression”

Keynote for the Latina/Latino Studies Conference

November 19

Sharon Farmer, University of California, Santa Barbara “Landscapes of Power, c. 1300: Social and Cultural Interactions at the Garden-Park of Hesdin”

December 10

Miranda Johnson, University of Michigan/Society of Fellows “When the Settlers Don’t Go Home: Indigenous Rights and the Re-Founding of Settler Societies”

1014 TISCH HALL 12-2PM

Friday Workshop

September 18

“What Did Freedom Mean? Analyzing Sources from the Caribbean and West Africa, 1775-1817”

Rebecca Scott (History), Jean Hébrard (History), and Edgardo Perez
Morales (PhD candidate, History). Moderated by Mamadou Diouf (Columbia University)

October 2

“World History as a Research Field, or How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love (Some) Meta-Narratives”

Kenneth Pomeranz, Charles Bright (History), Krista Goff (PhD candidate, History), and Monica Kim (PhD candidate, History)

October 16

“Economic Crises as Transformative Events”

William H. Sewell Jr., Bertrand Metton (PhD candidate, Anthro/History), Minayo Nasaili (PhD candidate, History), and Janam Mukherjee,
(PhD candidate, History)

November 6

“Becoming a World Historian”

Kerry Ward (Rice University) and Aims McGuinness (University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee)

November 20

“Recovering Forgotten People in History”

Sharon Farmer, Paolo Squatriti (History/ Romance Languages and Literatures), Megan Raphoon (PhD candidate, History), and Emily Price (PhD candidate, History)