

Fall 2009/Winter 2010 Anthropology and History Workshops

The Anthropology and History Workshop is a forum for the discussion of papers and chapters, usually in draft, by students, faculty and visitors. Papers are posted on the DPAH web-site about one week in advance. The Workshop meets on Friday, 2-4 pm, in 1014 Tisch Hall on UM's Central Campus. There is typically a commentator/critic for each session, the presenter has a few minutes to set a context for the discussion of the work, with the remainder of the session dedicated to open discussion.

September 25, 2009: Professor Zeynep Gursel, UM Department of Anthropology

Entangled Histories: Reflections on Photography in the Digital Age

October 2, 2009: Professor Michael Herzfeld, Harvard University - Anthropology

Emplacements: Recalibrating Multiple Pasts in a Bangkok Community

October 23, 2009: Sergio Huarcaya, Doctoral Candidate, UM Anthro-History Program

The Emergence of Indigenous Political Activism in the Ecuadorian Highlands

December 4, 2009: Danna Agmon, Doctoral Candidate, UM Anthro-History Program

The Elusive Origins of a Colonial Scandal: Authority and Narrative in Eighteenth Century French India

January 29, 2010: Professor Chandra Bhimull, Colby College

A Geometry of Empire

February 12, 2010: Dr. Bob Chidester, UM Anthro-History Program Graduate

Welcome to Bawlmer, Hon! Capitalism, Community and Gentrification in a Working-Class Baltimore Neighborhood, 1990-2009

March 19, 2010: Professor Robin Derby, University of California, Los Angeles

Boca del chivo: Demonic animals and the poetics of deforestation in the Haitian-Dominican borderlands

April 16, 2010: Professor Derek Peterson, UM Department of History

Conversion, Slander, and Civic Virtue in Mau Mau Detention Camps